WONDER IS ONE DEGREE AWAY

We are often tempted to make sudden 180-degree shifts or massive changes when things aren't going just right. John takes a different approach. He believes the extraordinary is closer than we think...just one degree away. John helps leaders uncover pivotal one degree micro-shifts to connect three pillars of success: Team, Brand, and Cause. When these areas are in alignment, it adds wonder to all you do. These three areas are universally important whether you are a business, nonprofit, coalition, or individual leader.
